Medium

Watercolour on paper

Dimensions

26.5 x 37.5 cm

Description

This is landscape watercolour depicting a view of a group of buildings, presumably the mill, huddled together on the bank of a river. In the immediate foreground is a river stretching towards the mill. Both sides of the river are visible and there are bare trees lining the two sides. In the distance are low rolling hills. The grass covering the riverbanks and the hills is light green and the sky is pale blue with light white clouds.
