

Basic Detail Report

A Grey Day at Malahide

Date

1890s

Primary Maker

Nathaniel Hone

Medium

Oil on canvas

Dimensions

45.8 x 68.6 cm

Description

A calm, contemplative mood pervades Hone's depiction of the sweeping beach and flat coastal landscape of Malahide beneath a cloudy sky. The emptiness of the scene is alleviated by a small figure among the marram grass and a fishing boat drawn up on the shore while the beach stretches into the distance behind. (From: The Collection Revealed: Nathaniel Hone, p. 105)