Description

In recent years, Madden has worked on an even more ambitious scale. A Space of Time can be seen as an announcement of what was to come. There is also the spectacular 54m² ceiling Madden painted in the Château de Carros in France (Empyrius, 1999), which suggests a sacred and ritualistic space. Afterwards, Madden painted the monumental Winged Figure (2004-5), which shows an angel-like winged figure over a flaming sea or sky. This figure could equally be, however, an apocalyptic and menacing presence. (Quoted from Anne Madden: A Retrospective, 2007, IMMA, on www.anne-madden.com)
