

Basic Detail Report

Coole Library with W. B. Yeats, Augusta Gregory and George Russell

Date

1900

Primary Maker

Jack B Yeats

Medium

Ink on paper

Dimensions

24.1 × 35.6 cm

Description

Jack B. Yeats depicts the library at Coole House, an important gathering place for artists and writers, which was the home of the writer Augusta, Lady Gregory, who was Sir Hugh Lane's aunt. The people featured in this drawing, Augusta Gregory, George Russell (AE), and William Butler Yeats, were prominent artistic figures who are all closely associated with the founding of the Hugh Lane Gallery.