

Celtic Legends: Study for a Decoration

Primary Maker

Donald MacLaren

Medium

Oil on canvas

Dimensions

177.8 x 345.6 cm

Description

Index card text: "A standing woman in yellow on the right with a child on each side; in the centre 2 small children; another group of women with a child on her back of a young girl behind. A blue stream and ... hill behind" This work may originally have been commissioned by Hugh Lane for the Entrance Hall of the Municipal Gallery of Modern Art. Stylistically this work and the women and children portrayed are very much like that of Augustus John and his family.